

Gene Therapy Infusion Day: What to Expect

Your infusion date and arrival time: _____

Preparing for infusion day

On the infusion day, you should expect to spend the entire day at IHTC (at least 8 hours). You may bring your personal items like tablet, books, blanket, water bottle, or snacks to use during the day. We will order and pay for any meals you need while you're at the clinic on infusion day.

If you live outside the Indianapolis area, you will stay in a hotel near IHTC for two nights: the evening before your infusion and the evening after. We will arrange and pay for your hotel stay.

Infusion day

A lot of people work hard to make your gene therapy infusion happen: nurses, pharmacists, doctors, delivery drivers, financial staff, and others. It is important for you to follow the schedule we give you and arrive to your appointment on time. When you get to IHTC on the morning of your infusion, we will:

- Place intravenous lines (IVs) in your arm with a needle
- Draw blood
- Check your vital signs (heart rate, blood pressure, temperature)
- Do a physical exam
- Mix the medicine in the pharmacy

When these are done, it will be time for your infusion. The infusion will take at least 1 hour, but it could take up to 3 hours.

After the infusion

After your infusion, you will need to stay in the IHTC clinic for at least 3 hours for safety monitoring. During safety monitoring, we will watch closely to make sure you do not have an allergic reaction to the infusion.

If you live outside of Indianapolis, you will stay at a hotel near IHTC for one more night. This is so you will be nearby in case you have a reaction or problem after the infusion.

The next day, you will come back to IHTC for a safety check-up. You will need to come back to IHTC for the safety check-up no matter where you live.
